Habikki (pronouced /HA-be-ki/)

Introduction

Raised in the vibrant music scene of the Phoenix Valley; Habikki's musical journey was ignited amidst the backdrop of all-night raves in the Mojave Desert during the 1990s. Enamored with the dynamic sounds of pitched-up breakbeats he began his deejay career 2000 mashing up Bouncy Hardcore, Jungle, and Drum & Bass. Assuming control of the Luvs Kru, Habikki collaborated with various Arizona collectives to throw events and add stages promoting the sound he loved. Maintaining residencies in Scottsdale, Tempe, Los Angeles, and Las Vegas, alongside regular radio appearances across the Southwestern United States. Habikki has cultivated bookings in the UK, Mexico, Canada, India, Spain, and across the US bringing his distinctive blend of rapid percussion and deep basslines to warehouses, pool parties, desert raves, and clubs alike. His versatile sets transcended musical boundaries, traversing Hip-Hop, House, Progressive, Happy Hardcore, Gabber, and Psytrance often in the same set tailored to the energy and versatility of the audience rooted in mixing mastery and turntablism.

Habikki is an active member of the Arizona Hardcore Junkies and Luvs Kru, boasting 6 releases under blind aliases and ghost collaboration monikers and is sitting on a stack of unreleased material ready to be released to dance floors.
